SUBJECT No. 9.

Election of members to the Legislative Council.

Messrs. G. Girimaji Rao, Kolar taluk, H. Venkataramaiya and K. Rangaiengar, Tumkur Municipality, J. Subba Rao, Krishi Silpabhi Vardhika Samaj, Chitaldrug, C. Vasudeva Rao, Chikmagalur Municipality, Nanjappa Setti, Mysore District Board, T. Abdul Khader, Muslim Association, Tarikere, and Mahomed Abbas Khan, Central Mohammedan Association, Bangalore.

Summary of discussion.—(i) Instead of the existing system, eight members may be elected in the Representative Assembly, one for each district.

(ii) No member may be elected by the Representative Assembly, but one may be elected for each district.

(iii) Instead of the existing system of four members being elected by the Representative Assembly and four by the districts, two may be elected by the Representative Assembly and eight by districts.

(iv) One member may be elected for each district, but it should be in the districts.

(v) Local Boards and Municipal Councils may be constituted into special electorates.

(vi) One additional non-official Mohammedan member may be nominated so that the interests of the community may be sufficiently represented.

vii) Nomination of members may be made in consultation with public bodies.

Reply of Government.—Noted. The question of constituting Local Boards and Municipalities into special electorates will be considered along with the scheme of Local Self-Government.

Legn

D Subd. with references and copies of the existing rules. Under the present system 4 members out of the R:A. members are elected by the R:A. members themselves during their session at Mysore once in two years, and 4 members are elected by ~~the Govt~~ the several electorates in the 4 ~~Govt~~ groups one for each group

2) Is a point produces whether any change in the existing ~~rules~~ is necessary.
